

Practical community nature recovery projects

How the Shropshire Hills Landscape Trust supports small nature recovery and related community projects

Charles Edwards SHLT Trustee

Restoring dormouse habitats

Abdon District Community Wildlife Group

Save our Curlew

Shropshire Ornithological Society

Branching out Into the Woods

Leadmine lime mortaring workshop Snailbeach Mines Trust

So....projects fill gap between individual actions and major interventions

- Protect fragile wildlife populations from further decline
- Conserve the landscape for future generations
- Enthuse the young about the whys and hows of nature recovery
- Convert sympathetic communities into nature workforces

Role of local councils

- Raising local awareness of available nature recovery support
- Channel for identifying and supporting suitable projects: easy, supported non-bureaucratic process
- Fitting projects into a wider local nature recovery plan
- Making a tangible nature recovery commitment by becoming a Supporter of the Trust