

Code of Conduct

This online training session will take place via Zoom on Thursday 15 September 2022, 11:00-12:00
Delivered by Gill Lungley BA (Hons), FSLCC

Gill has been involved with local councils since the early 1990s briefly as a parish councillor and then as the Clerk and RFO to a variety of parish and town councils across Worcestershire and the West Midlands.

Gill holds a BA (Hons) in Business Studies and has achieved the Certificate of Higher Education in Local Policy Studies (the forerunner to today's Certificate in Local Council Administration – CiLCA) from Cheltenham and Gloucester College. Ongoing professional development has seen her gain the CiLCA 2012 additional requirement that enables the councils she works for to adopt the General Power of Competence and apply for the Local Council Award Scheme.

Having worked alongside various local council trainers Gill added to her qualifications with Preparing to Teach in the Lifelong Learning Sector (PTLLS) to support the delivery of her informative training sessions. Gill is also a recognised trainer for CiLCA students.

An interactive presentation on the standards expected of parish and town councillors.

The current Code of Conduct has its roots in the Localism Act 2011 and applies to all council members without exception. We shall look at the new national code produced by the Local Government Association that has been widely adopted across the country and review what this means in practice. We shall also assess the different types of interest that must be declared and the procedure for doing so.

The presentation includes a quiz, so be prepared to voice your opinion and ask questions.

Cost per member delegate: £20
